AUGUST 3, 2025 + 18TH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

Today, Jesus tells a parable in response to a man demanding help with an inheritance. Jesus refuses to settle the dispute and instead warns about greed. The rich man in the story stores up goods but dies before he can enjoy them. The point is clear: treasure that is hoarded is not lasting. This fits with Luke's overall concern for justice, humility, and care for the poor.

The Gospel ties together all the other readings, it shows the emptiness of wealth, it points to something higher. Luke's Gospel often warns against the danger of riches and highlights God's concern for those in need. This parable is a call to examine our hearts and to become rich in what matters to God.

In Ecclesiastes "vanity" is used to mean "a puff of wind -or- exhaled breath". The writer questions the value of wisdom, toil, pleasure, and success when all of them seem to end in the same place—death. We are invited to wrestle with hard truths. Paul urges the Church to set their hearts on what is above. We are reminded that life in Christ is a new reality. Earthly attachments and sinful habits are part of the old self, which must be left behind. Paul calls us to live out our baptismal identity in practical ways.

The goal for today is transformation, where Christ is all and in all.

God Bless, Fr Leo
