AUGUST 10, 2025 + 19TH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

Jesus' instructions on how to be ready for judgment day continue in today's Gospel. We should not be like the greedy rich man planning to store his great harvest rather than share it. We are, rather, to share our wealth with those in need. The antidote for the anxiety brought on by the coming judgment is to relinquish our possession and provide for the needs of others. Our everlasting treasure will be in heaven.

In the Gospel, Peter asks if the parable of the master coming after midnight is meant for the apostles or for all gathered. In response Jesus tells another parable about servants awaiting the return of their master. He asks: "Who, then, is the faithful and prudent steward whom the master will put in charge of his servants to distribute the food allowance at the proper time?" This parable adds to the theme of watchfulness. Is it addressed to the apostles or all? Either way, the parables remind us that we should all be found doing our jobs when the master arrives and our reward will be great. But if we begin to act like the greedy rich man—eating, drinking, and making merry, while neglecting the needs of others—we will not have a place in the kingdom. Watchfulness means living (loving) in such a consistently moral and obedient way that we are always ready to give an account to God of how we have lived.

God Bless, Fr Leo
