Those we love don't go away, they walk
beside us
everyday. Unseen, unheard, but always near. Still loved, still missed.

Helpful tips to Survive the Holiday Season

1. Acknowledge that the holidays will be different and they will be tough.
2. Decide which traditions you want to keep.
3. Decide which traditions you want to change.
4. Create a new tradition in memory of your loved one.
5. Decide where you want to spend the holidays – you may want to switch up the location, or it may be of comfort to keep it the same. Either way, make a conscious decision about location.
6. Plan ahead and communicate with the people you will spend the holiday with in advance, to make sure everyone is in agreement about traditions and plans.
7. Remember that not everyone will be grieving the same way you are grieving.
8. Remember that the way others will want to spend the holiday may not match how you want to spend the holiday.
9. Put out a 'memory stocking', 'memory box', or another special place where you and others can write down memories you treasure. Pick a time to read them together.
10. Light a candle in your home in memory of the person you've lost.
11. Include one of your loved one's favorite dishes in your holiday meal.
12. Be honest. Tell people what you DO want to do for the holidays and what you DON'T want to do.
13. Make a donation to a charity that was important to your loved one in their name.
14. If you are feeling really ambitious, adopt a family in memory of your loved one. This can often be done through a church, salvation army, or goodwill.
15. See a counselor. Maybe you've been putting it off. The holidays are especially tough, so this may be the time to talk to someone.
16. Pick a few special items that belonged to your loved one & gift them to friends or family who will appreciate them.
17. Make a memorial ornament, wreath, or other decoration in honor of your loved one.
18. Send a holiday card to friends of your loved one who you may regret having lost touch with.
19. Visit your loved one's gravesite and leave a grave blanket, wreath, poinsettia, or another meaningful holiday item.
20. Play your loved one's favorite holiday music.
