

Seven Dolors Catholic Women (SDCW)

This weekend, we are celebrating the Seven Dolors Catholic Women. For those unfamiliar with what SDCW is, we would like to take a moment to explain who they are, and what we do.

The SDCW is comprised of four circles of women, and each group has a specific function. We are responsible for coordinating and serving coffee and donuts after Mass on the 3rd weekend of the month.

We host receptions throughout the year, for special guests and occasions. Lastly, one of our most important duties is to serve funeral luncheons, so that friends and family members have a place to gather after a funeral.

If you have ever attended one of these events, you can appreciate the time and effort behind the scenes that the Seven Dolors Catholic Women contributed to make it special. These events bring the people of Seven Dolors together, and they help bring us closer as a church. But times are changing, and our circles are getting noticeably smaller. We have lost many steadfast members over the years but have taken on very few new members. We need more parish women to join us and help us continue our mission of serving the people of Seven Dolors.

Ladies, one of the greatest benefits of joining one of our circles is the lasting, lifelong friendships made by serving our church together. Some of our members are retired, and some still have children at home. Many of our members work full-time. Our members can tailor their time commitment to their schedules and volunteer during different stages of their lives. There is a great social aspect to joining a circle. We enjoy getting together when we are volunteering and get together socially occasionally.

The Seven Dolors Catholic Women are more than an “altar society”; we are a dedicated family of women with a common goal: to enrich our faith by serving our church and giving back to the parish.

Please consider joining our family! One of our members will be available after Mass to answer questions that you might have and take your contact information. Thank you!
